Schwartz named VP of sales, marketing at Gage

Gage Brothers Concrete Products has promoted Steve Schwartz to vice president of sales and marketing. In this role, Steve oversees the marketing, preconstruction sales, business development, and estimating teams. He also joins the company's executive leadership team, contributing to Gage Brothers' strategic direction and growth.

Steve Schwartz

Schwartz joined Gage Brothers in 2024 as sales director and brings more than 40 years of experience in developing and leading sales, marketing, and strategic management initiatives across regional, national, and global organizations. His expertise spans several industries, with the majority of his career having been dedicated to the construction sector.

Schwartz is also the chair of the PCI Sustainability Advisory Subcommittee.
